Dear Sir/Madam

I support the Rocky Hill Coal Project going ahead because it will:

I have not made any reportable political donations in the past two years.

OR

Completed political donations disclosure statement attached

Political donations disclosure statement

Information sheet

Do I need to complete a political donations disclosure statement?

You will be required to fill out the attached political donations disclosure statement if you have made a political donation of $1,000 or more within the last two years. Donations of $1,000 or more to a political party, elected member, group, candidate or third-party campaigner are all classed as political donations.

A political donation is a gift (monetary or otherwise) and includes:

- (a) a donation of money;
- (b) the provision of a service at no charge or at a discounted charge;
- (c) an amount paid by a person as a contribution, entry fee or other payment to entitle them to benefit from a fund-raising venture or function;
- (d) an annual subscription to membership of a party; and
- (e) the giving of a gift or property.

This also applies if you have made a number of smaller donations that total $1,000 or more over the last two years,

For example: the payment of money to attend a fundraising function (ie. a dinner hosted by or on behalf of a political party) will be a gift if the amount paid to attend the function was in excess of what it would actually cost to host the person attending (ie. the cost of the food, drinks and associated event costs).

It is important you find out if you have made any political donations before making your submission as penalties apply if you do not report these donations when making a submission.

If you need any assistance in determining whether you are required to complete the political donations disclosure statement do not hesitate to contact GRL.
